1. Claims 1-7 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

In claim 1, line 4, "motor" should be –a motor–.

In claim 2, line 10, "said container" lacks antecedent basis.

2. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

3. Claim 1 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Mattera in view of Martin et al.

Mattera discloses a power supply/air compressor "20" disposed in a vehicle including a mounting bracket "24", a jack "40", hoses "50", a tool accessory outlet "22", and means for removing lugs including an air impact wrench (col. 3, line 55). The air compressor "20" is powered by the vehicle's battery. Martin et al discloses a power supply attached to a vehicle including an air compressor "90", and an air reservoir "92", a switch "94", a battery "96", hoses "98", and tool connections "102" for engagement to various tools including an tool to remove lug nuts. It would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art to form the device of Mattera with a switch for turning the device on or off as taught by Martin. It would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art to form the device of Mattera with detachable hoses to allow for the attachment/detachment of various tools as taught by Martin. The examiner takes Official Notice that the use of a motor having a rotatable shaft is old and well known in the field of air compressors. Consequently, it would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art to form the air compressor of Mattera with a motor having a rotatable shaft to power the device as such is an old and well known mechanical equivalent.

4. Claims 2-7 may be given favorable consideration if rewritten to overcome the rejection(s) under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, set forth in this Office action and to include all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.
